Cruise Weekly today

Cruise Weekly today features four pages of all the latest cruise industry news.

Cruise Critic AU wins

CRUISE Critic has named its Editors' Pick Awards for Australia following its int'l awards in the US and UK last week (CW Thu).

Among the key winners were Royal Caribbean International's Ovation of the Seas, named best new cruise ship, and P&O Cruises' Pacific Aria and Eden, awarded for best refurbishment.

Regent Seven Seas Cruises took out best for luxury, Carnival Cruise Line, best for value and North Star for adventure.

Scenic won top river cruise line, while Celebrity Cruises was awarded best dining, Holland America Line as best cabins and Princess Cruises took out the award for romance.

Norwegian Bliss for Alaska

NORWEGIAN Cruise Line has announced a 4,000-guest ship, Norwegian Bliss, to be custom-built for Alaskan cruises and to debut in Jun 2018.

With a seasonal home port of Seattle, Bliss will sail weekly seven-day itineraries calling at Ketchikan, Juneau, Skagway in Alaska & Victoria, BC along with scenic glacier cruising.

Norwegian Cruise Line ceo Andy Stuart said the line had been the first to cruise to Alaska from Seattle in 2000, making the ship a fitting addition to the port.

"Alaska is one of the top destinations for our guests to explore and we are thrilled to be the first cruise line to offer our guests the opportunity to experience this coveted destination aboard a brand new, state-of-the-art cruise ship custom designed for Alaska, the first of its kind to debut in Seattle," he said.

At 167,800 gross tons, the ship will be the third in Norwegian's Breakaway-Plus class and is being built at the Meyer Werft shipyards in Papenburg, Germany.

Marine artist Wyland has been commissioned to create a design for the ship's hull.

Further details will be revealed in coming months.

On The Go Antarctica

ON THE Go Tours is now selling four expedition cruises in Antarctica on board The Ushuaia Polar Vessel.

Ranging from nine- to 20-days in length, the itineraries depart between Nov and Feb 2017, and again in Jan-Mar 2018.

Prices lead in at $11,983ppts for the 11-day Classic Antarctica tour, which ventures to the South Shetland Islands and the Antarctic Peninsula, with a number of shore landings.

RCI family special

ROYAL Caribbean International is offering family deals on its South Pacific and Fiji sailings, allowing kids to cruise from $35 per day and parents to receive up to 30% off.

The 'Live for the Family' offer applies to triple/quad-share reservations from 13 Jan-09 Apr 2017, when booked by 29 Oct.

NT cruise season

THE Northern Territory's cruise season kicked off over the weekend with Celebrity Solstice sailing into Darwin.

In 2016/17, 45 cruise ship visits to Darwin are scheduled.

NT Minister for Tourism and Culture Lauren Moss said the start of the season would bring a welcome boost to the economy during the off-peak season.

"Cruise ship passengers spent an estimated record of $16m in 2015/16, with the major beneficiaries being our Darwin CBD and Waterfront precincts as well as local tour operators," Moss said.

Genting handover

SHIPBUILDER Meyer Werft has officially handed over Genting Dream to Dream Cruises' parent company, Genting Hong Kong.

The vessel has embarked on her positioning voyage to her homeport in Guangzhou.

Carnival Long beach

CARNIVAL is tripling the Long Beach Cruise Terminal facility from approx 6,132m² to 13,192m² to accommodate larger ships.

Under an agreement with landlord Urban Commons and the City of Long Beach, California, Carnival will take over all of the Geodesic Dome that used to house Howard Hughes' "Spruce Goose" attraction.

To be completed late 2017, the extra space will allow for two-way operations, so guests embarking can access the terminal before disembarkation is completed.

"For years we have been working toward reaching an agreement to expand the Long Beach Cruise Terminal to accommodate larger ships on the West Coast, and we're thrilled to finally be able to move forward with our plans to assume full usage of the Dome, making Long Beach one of our largest homeport facilities," said Christine Duffy, president of Carnival Cruise Line.

Curtis shares with Australia

CELEBRITY Chef Curtis Stone was down under yesterday to officially open SHARE by Curtis Stone on Sun Princess in Sydney.

"I wanted SHARE to be one of those special experiences where you would just hang out and share delicious food and maybe try something that you wouldn't normally try because the person opposite you is trying it," Curtis told attendees yesterday.

The restaurant is on three Princess ships, two of which will be in Australian waters this season when Emerald Princess arrives on 15 Nov for her first local stint, joining Sun Princess.

Sun Princess' SHARE menu took two months to finalise & has been created for Aussie tastes.

Ruby Princess, which is sailing in the Northern hemisphere, is also fitted with SHARE.

Princess Cruises vp Australia & NZ Stuart Allison said the restaurant has been a hit with local guests since its introduction on Sun Princess earlier this year, noting its warm bread pudding & toffee sauce has proved popular.

See Facebook for pictures.

Wild Earth brochure

THE 2017 Wild Earth Travel small ship cruise brochure has been released, to view it online, CLICK HERE.

A DIVER in Mexico has found himself briefly sharing a cage with a great white shark on a cage diving trip off Mexico's Guadalupe Island.

A video posted on YouTube shows the shark grabbing some bait and crashing into the side of the diving cage.

The crew rush to open the top and a few seconds later the predator emerges from the top of the cage and swims away.

Shortly after a shaken diver is helped from the water, seemingly unharmed.

The poster of the video commends the work of the crew and explains the diver is a very experienced instructor, who ended up outside the bottom of the cage.
